"Leadership For the Real World!"

"Speech to Statesperson"

At 211 degrees, water is hot... At 212 degrees, it boils.. With boiling water, comes steam.. And steam can power an engine.... It's that one extra degree that makes all the difference

The two most important components of effective leadership are public speaking ability and critical thinking skills. Our 212program features important aspects of training which not only make the students effective speakers but also make them effective leaders which will enable them to face real life challenges and make effective decision. Enthusiasm for leadership is a universal goal of leadership programs but frankly is a fairly low bar of accomplishment. We developed our leadership training programs around the premise that students should strive to be effective leaders who demonstrate excellence by their approach and by their accomplishment, the kind of leaders that by virtue of their superior service will prompt a teacher to write them an uncommonly powerful letter of recommendation for college, or will justify having a teacher or even their peers consider nominating and advocating for that student for truly special awards and selective honors.

212program teaches the values of hard work, decision making, effective communicator and, commitment.
